Rabbi Silver on Woman Suffrage.

It is with the sincerest pleasure that the West Virginia Equal Suffrage Association announces that Rabbi Silver, of Wheeling, will take the platform in advocacy of the pending franchise amendment. This exceptionally gifted orator will be heard in Clarksburg on the evening of October 19 at the court house.

One of the representative men of the state is Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, of the Temple, Leshem Shomayim, Wheeling. No West Virginia religious congregation of any denomination is led by a man of more intellectual culture and vigor of thought than this Wheeling temple. It will be remembered that when the woman's edition of the Wheeling Intelligencer appeared Rabbi Silver was represented therein by an article of exceptional strength in which he gave some of the reasons why he favored the enfranchisement of women. That article was a classic and has been quoted throughout the state.

The people of West Virginia will be delighted to know that this distinguished religious leader will soon be heard on the platform in favor of the pending suffrage amendment. An oratorical treat is in store for our people. Rabbi Silver is a man of profound learning and a deep thinker. He arrives at his conclusions on important subjects only after extended study and research. When he favors a movement of such moment as the extension of the vote to women, his hearers are assured that his conclusions are the summing up of all the evidence by a mature and trained mind.

With Mrs. St. Clair. All members of the Willing Workers' Society of the First Baptist church and the friends of the organization are to meet at the home of Mrs. Elmer St. Clair at 506 Hornor avenue at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

RUSSIAN ATTACKS ARE FAILURES WITH LOSSES

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Strong attacks were made by the Russians Sunday in Volhynia, west of Lutsk. Monday's official statement reports that these assaults broke down with severe losses for the Russians.

French troops made an attack upon the German positions west of the town of Sully-Saillies, the German statement adds. The attackers were driven back south of the village by a counter attack.

British troops Sunday attacked the German positions northeast of Guinecourt, three miles south of Bapaume, and penetrated the German first line but the ground was recaptured after a counter attack, the statement continues.

GERMAN TROOPS ARE ON THE OFFENSIVE NOW

PETROGRAD, Oct. 16.—Heavy forces of Teutonic troops have assumed the offensive south of Dornawatra in the southern Carpathians near the junction point of the Roumanian-Transylvanian and Bukovina boundary lines, the war office announced Monday.

Hard fighting continues in Galicia east and south of the Lemberg district without either side making advances, says the statement.

RED MAN NOT INTERESTED IN MODERN WAYS

Indian Spares Few Words and Little Emotion over Mining Enterprise.

MIAMI, Okla., Oct. 16.—John Beaver, full-blooded Quapaw Indian, whose tepee is some distance out of Miami visited one of his tracts of land the other day, and seated in his buggy several hundred yards out on the prairie from the big Quapaw Beaver Mining Company's mill, viewed stolidly the evidences of the work of the "paleface."

John Newton, superintendent of the mine, which is one of the biggest and richest of the neighborhood, noticed the Indian and walking out to where he was, he invited him to make a closer inspection of the property. It was the first time that John Beaver had ever seen the mine.

Adorned with numerous red, blue and yellow ribbons and feathers, both tied in his hair, and wearing a heavily highly colored blanket, the Indian presented an odd picture.

"It's a fine mill, isn't it?" ventured Newton.

"Ugh," grunted the red man.

"Won't you come over and see it?"

"No."

However a certain amount of persuasion induced the Indian to step from his buggy and walk slowly and suspiciously over toward the plant. Occasionally he would pause as though half inclined to turn back. It was quite evident that he was soon to reap riches from the royalty from the larger new mine did not entice him in the least.

"You've been away some time, haven't you?" inquired Newton.

"Ugh."

"Fishing and hunting?"

"Ugh."

"Hunting?"

"Ugh."

"Lots of game?"

"No."

"This is pretty ore, isn't it?" scooping up a handful from a bin.

"Ugh."

At that moment a can, carrying two miners, was lifted to the surface from the depths of the shaft, and as the miners climbed from the great steel can the old Indian walked in stately manner toward his buggy, evidently greatly relieved to put as much space as possible between himself and the "witchcraft" of the white man.

FINDS THIRD MOTHER IN HIS TWO YEARS OF LIFE

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 16.—Robert Horky, two years old, though motherless, is rich in mothers. First there was the quiet, adoring person who used to sing him to sleep. Then when she was taken away, there was the other woman he knew, who gave him all her affection—Mrs. J. E. Lawrence, 4653 Greenview avenue.

Now there is still another who has given him a new home, a great sand pile and all the toys he had ever dreamed about. She is Mrs. Charles L. Harrison, 4154 Dickinson avenue.

Robert's mother worked in the home of Mrs. Lawrence until she died last March.

OWENS COMES BACK.

PRAYER BOOK REVISION REPORT IS SUBMITTED

At the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church for Its Action.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 16.—Revision and shortening of five of the Ten Commandments as they appear in the Book of Common Prayer and the elimination of Good Friday prayer which classes Jews with "Turks, infidels and heretics," were proposed in the report of the joint commission on the Book of Common Prayer submitted to the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church today.

The commission, consisting of seven bishops, seven clergymen and seven laymen, under the chairmanship of the Rt. Rev. Courtlandt Whitehead, bishop of Pittsburgh, was appointed by the 1913 convention of the church to revise and enrich the book of common prayer, adapting it to modern conditions.

It was proposed to eliminate portions of the first five commandments on the ground that the arguments for the observance of divine law in the Ten Commandments may actually be understood in the laws themselves, and also to shorten and make more impressive the church service. Further, it was held that the reasons, which applied in Israel do not necessarily apply today. The revised version of the five commandments as proposed follows:

1. Thou shalt have no other Gods but me.

2. Thou shalt not make unto thyself any graven image, nor the likeness of anything that is in the heaven above, the earth beneath, or in the waters under the earth; Thou shalt not bow down to them nor worship them.

3. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God, in vain.

4. Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day.

5. Honor thy father and thy mother.

The commission's report recommended that the present Good Friday prayer: "Have mercy upon all Jews, Turks, infidels and heretics," be revised to read, "Have mercy upon all who know Thee not, as revealed in the Gospel of thy Son," thus eliminating a classification which to many has been objectionable.

Numerous suggestions for the enrichment of the prayer book to meet modern conditions were advanced. Among these were the adoption of prayers for labor, for the army and navy, for schools and colleges, for state legislatures and a patriotic prayer for Independence day.

HELD TO GRAND JURY.

John Gill, William Hamrick, Henry Banks and James Hill, the last two named being colored, were held to the grand jury at the close of preliminary hearings Monday morning in Magistrate William E. Starcher's court on charges of bootlegging. Gill and Hamrick gave bail but the others were jailed in default.

STORK BRINGS A BOY.

Edward Erickson, a local distributing agent of the Pittsburg Gazette Times, will stand on his head today for the asking. In fact, he will cut away a sort of caper because he is so elated over the arrival of a boy baby, weighing seven and one-half pounds, Monday morning at his home at 324 Parrill court. It is the first born and the joy in the household is great.

MISSING MONEY JAR CAUSES TROUBLE

Loser and Chinaman Flee and Farmer Bean's Beans Fail to "Crop."

MARYSVILLE, Calif., Oct. 16.—Clarence Darby, blacksmith, is Yuba county's latest victim of the fact that troubles never come singly.

Some time ago Darby buried near a tree in his yard, a glass jar containing $500. He tied his watchdog to the tree, but when the canine buried a bone the glass jar was unearthed. A stranger picked up the jar and hurried along.

Because a jar similar to the one in which the money was found near the premises of Ah Lung, servant of F. E. Bean, a neighbor, the celestial was suspected of having eluded the "watchings" of the watchdog.

Trouble then rapidly followed, the result being that Darby no longer holds his position with the blacksmith concern. Also, he has departed from the county.

Now comes to the stage center former neighbor Bean, employer of Ah Lung. Bean has instructed an attorney to institute a damage suit against Darby if it is learned that the latter has any remaining funds. He avers Darby furnished a revolver in an attempt to intimidate the Chinaman into making a confession. The "Hong Kongist," he says, became frightened and fled from the community, leaving to the care of Mother Nature the bean crop of Mr. Bean. Mother Nature flinches at the additional burden, and Bean's beans failed to "crop." Now he seeks damages for the sum he believes would have been realized.

TOUGH SOLDIER, THIS OF 3,000 YEARS AGO

LONDON, Oct. 16.—While troops were digging practice trenches on the Wilshire downs they found the remains of a very tough old fighter of 3,000 years ago. This man, writes Lieutenant Lionel F. West, an army physician, in a medical journal, received a blow from a stone battle axe on the forehead with such force that the axe sunk within the skull leaving a sharp-edged hole about three-quarters of a half inch in size.

The horrible injury was not immediately fatal, Lieutenant West says, for there are signs of repair all over the wound. The warrior lingered on for months, although he was a slight man of five feet two inches in height.

CATCHES BIG RATS ON STICKY FLYPAPER

SEAFORD, Del., Oct. 16.—Sticky flypaper, as a means of catching rats and mice grown wary of the trap, is praised to the skies by Harley Brewster, a Broad Creek farmer, who has experimented with the sticky sheets and is certain that he has fallen on the only truly scientific means of capturing vermin.

Brewster's barn was overrun with rats. They ate his grain and his chickens. He spread the floor of the barn near the holes with flypaper and in the morning twelve large rats were rolled up in the paper. He has kept the system in operation, and it has never failed, he declares.
